ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST CATHOLIC CHURCH

October 26th, 2025 | 30th Sunday in Ordinary Time | Painting by: Fra Angelico (1395–1455)

FROM OUR PRIESTS

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

This Sunday's Gospel reading includes the dumbest prayer ever prayed. The fact that this dumb prayer is from a parable does not really make it less real. We might be tempted to think that it is just a form of hyperbole, but we should remember that Jesus tells parables because they are true to life. The prayer that Jesus attributes to the Pharisee is true to life; it shows that the human heart has an incredible capacity for pride, self-deception, and ultimately self-worship. The content of the Pharisee's prayer is bad enough; "O God, I thank you that I am not like the rest of humanity..." he goes on to say how bad everyone else is and how good he is. He believes that there is a stark contrast between himself and sinners. This is obviously false.

But this is not the Pharisee's first mistake nor his biggest. It's not even what makes it the dumbest prayer ever prayed. The biggest mistake he makes is that he prays the prayer TO HIMSELF. Yes, this could just mean that he was standing by himself or that he was praying it silently, but I don't (and many biblical commentators don't) think we should rule out a deeper level of meaning here. In his commentary on the Gospel of Luke, Pablo Gadenz says that the Pharisee's prayer "however, is less toward God and more to himself," and he has isolated himself from both God and mankind. In his self-righteousness, he has made himself the standard of exemplary behavior, even the standard of goodness and holiness. This is what happens when we lose sight of God's goodness, God's holiness, and God's love. When we compare ourselves to others and seek to justify our actions by comparison, we end up losing all reference to and relationship with God. The first thing to do when we pray is to remember the One with whom we are speaking, and this will immediately bring us to humility. If we start a prayer that is not filled with wonder and awe that the holy God who created the universe is inviting us into conversation with Him, then we may not actually be talking to Him at all. We may end up praying to ourselves. If, on the other hand, we come into God's presence with awe and gratitude, our prayer will be very fruitful in leading our hearts toward His love and mercy.

Blessings,

Fr. Dan

GIVING BACK FOR ALL WE'VE RECEIVED

By Bryan and Arwen Mosher

Hi, fellow SJB parishioners! We are Bryan and Arwen Mosher, and our children are Camilla (19), Blaise (16), Linus and Ambrose (14), and Felix (9). Camilla is a sophomore at Valparaiso University, our older three boys go to Father Gabriel Richard, and Felix is a fourth grader at Huron Valley.

We were public school kids ourselves, but felt called to send our kids to Catholic school. This is our fourteenth year, and the blessings have been uncountable. Our kids' schools reinforce the truths of the faith, teach them virtue, and provide them with a community that supports their growth as children of God - all without compromising high academic standards. We have found Catholic schools to be places where our children are nurtured spiritually, emotionally, academically, and physically: the whole package.

As a single-income household, we found the cost of Catholic education daunting from the beginning. It's been an adventure in trusting God and his abundant generosity. Even when we don't see how it will work, he provides, and every dollar we have spent on Catholic school tuition has borne fruit in our lives many times over.

Out of gratitude for all we have received from God and our community, we volunteer in fundraising for our schools. We are heavily involved with the annual fundraising galas at both FGR and HVCS, largely because those fundraisers directly benefit the schools' scholarship funds. We've seen over the years how deeply necessary and impactful scholarships can be for families. The communal action of financial support for Catholic education is a tangible indicator of God's goodness - and a response to it!

For us, the Stewardship for Saints and Scholars initiative feels like an answer to prayer. As our diocese and its parishes come together to support Catholic education, we are doing God's work in the most fundamental of ways. Catholic education builds a foundation for the future Church. Please considering doing your part and contribute to this campaign. We believe it will bear fruit in your lives, and in the life of the Church, for years to come.

OUR STORY IS ONE OF GOD'S GENEROSITY—LET'S CONTINUE THAT STORY BY SUPPORTING THE EDUCATION AND FORMATION OF THE NEXT GENERATION.

CAMPUS MINISTRY

BUILDING COMMUNITY: MEN'S & WOMEN'S NIGHT!

Last week, our Campus Ministry hosted a Men's and Women's Night in place of our usual Disciples Night. These nights are an intentional time for our men's and women's communities to split up and build deeper relationships through fellowship, faith, and fun.

The women gathered at a student's home for a cozy, fall-themed evening. The night was filled with laughter, conversation, and creativity as everyone enjoyed painting pumpkins, sipping warm drinks, and spending time around the bonfire. It was a beautiful space for friendship and authentic community to grow. Meanwhile, the men gathered in the Campus Ministry Men's Household for an evening full of good food and brotherhood. They fired up the grill and cooked an impressive feast (lots of meat, of course!) and capped off the night with a movie together. Both gatherings provided a wonderful way to invite new people into the heart of our community and give them a glimpse of life in Campus Ministry.

We continue to be amazed by how the Lord is moving through this ministry and the ways He is drawing students closer to Him through simple moments of connection. Thank you to our parish family for your continued prayers and support. Your intercession truly sustains and strengthens the work God is doing on campus. We are so grateful for your partnership in this mission!

Solemnity of All Saints

November 1st, 2025

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

The Solemnity of All Saints, which we celebrate today, invites us to raise our gaze to Heaven and to meditate on the fullness of the divine life which awaits us. "We are God's children now; it does not yet appear what we shall be" (1 Jn 3:2): with these words the Apostle John assures us of the reality of our profound relation to God, as too, of the certainty of our destiny.

Like beloved children, therefore, we also receive the grace to support the trials of this earthly existence — the hunger and the thirst for justice, the misunderstandings, the persecutions (see Mt 5:3-11) — and, at the same time, we inherit what is promised in the Gospel Beatitudes: "promises resplendent with the new image of the world and of man inaugurated by Jesus" (Benedict XVI, Jesus of Nazareth, Milan 2007, p. 72). The holiness, imprinted in us by Christ himself, is the goal of Christian life. Blessed Antonio Rosmini wrote: "The Word impressed himself in the souls of his disciples with his physical presence... with his words... he had given to his own this grace... with which the soul immediately perceives the Word" (Supernatural Anthropology, Rome, 1983, pp. 265-266). And we have a foretaste of the gift and the beauty of sanctity every time that we participate in the Eucharistic Liturgy, the communion with the "great multitude" of holy souls, which in Heaven eternally acclaim the salvation of God and of the Lamb (see Rev 7:9-10). "The lives of the Saints are not limited to their earthly biographies but also include their being and working in God after death. In the Saints one thing becomes clear: those who draw near to God do not withdraw from men, but rather become truly close to them" (Deus Caritas Est, no. 42).

Consoled by this communion of the great family of Saints, tomorrow we shall commemorate all the faithful departed. The Liturgy of 2 November and the pious exercise of visiting cemeteries reminds us that Christian death is part of the journey toward becoming like God and it will vanish when God will be all in all to everyone. The separation from earthly affection is certainly painful, but we should not fear it, because it, accompanied by the prayer and suffrage of the Church, it cannot break the profound bond that unites us to Christ. As was previously said, St Gregory of Nyssa affirms: "He who has created every thing in wisdom, has given this painful disposition as an instrument of liberation from evil and the possibility to participate in separated goods" (De Mortuis Oratio, IX, Leiden, 1967, p. 68).

Dear Friends, Eternity is not an "unending succession of days in the calendar, but something more like the supreme moment of satisfaction, in which totality embraces us and we embrace totality" (Spe Salvi, no. 12). To the Virgin Mary, the sure guide to sanctity, we entrust our pilgrimage to our heavenly home, while invoking her motherly intercession for the eternal repose of all our brothers and sisters who have been laid to rest in the hope of resurrection.

— Pope Benedict XVI, Angelus, Solemnity of All Saints, November 1, 2010. www.vatican.va
